

BLACK LIVES MATTER

AN INTRODUCTION TO ANTI-RACISM EDUCATION

FREE webinar, 4-5pm on 9th July 2020

We are on the cusp of an important sea change regarding how we think and talk about race in society. It is not enough to 'not be racist'; we must be actively anti-racist in our everyday lives.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR US AS EDUCATORS?

In this session, we will engage with the core principles of Critical Race Theory and Anti-Racism teaching. We will lay the necessary groundwork for building an exploratory, post-colonial climate in the classroom. We will also consider some of the likely challenges we may face when talking about race, and crucially, how an awareness of our own limitations, combined with an understanding of the theory, can have a transformative effect on our interactions both inside and outside of the classroom.
